

The Little Prince

LITERARY ELEMENTS WORKSHEET

Setting

The setting of a novel is the where and the when that the story takes place. It not only provides factual information for the reader, it also can affect the plot and the characters. In The Little Prince, we are taken to many different settings, some outside of our own planet.

Pick the settings that you think are most important to the events of the novel, and fill out the chart below. Provide a quote from the text, and then discuss the setting's impact on and importance to the novel.

Setting	Textual Description	Importance to Novel
The desert	You sit down on a sand dune. You see nothing. You hear nothing. And yet something shines, something sings in that silence.
